Important Disclosures and Risk Factors

1. Holder conversion feature may be settled in cash, ECC common stock (based on its trailing five-day volume weighted average price, or "VWAP"), or a combination of both, in the full discretion of the issuer.
2. Loan-to-value ratio and capital structure as of March 31, 2025, represents the Company's debt and preferred securities outstanding as a percentage of its total assets less current liabilities. Assumes the Company's capital structure as of March 31, 2025 and does not give effect to the sale of the unissued portion of the convertible preferred stock from this offering. Common equity value represents the Company's net asset value as of March 31, 2025. In the future the Company may incur additional leverage through the issuance of debt or preferred stock, in each case subject to the limitations of the Investment Company Act of 1940. Such leverage may be secured and/or unsecured. Any such leverage does not include leverage embedded or inherent in the CLO structures in which ECC invests or in derivative instruments in which ECC may invest. A decline in the value of ECC's assets, whose prices can be volatile, would also have the effect of increasing leverage.
3. Rating by Egan-Jones Ratings Company, a nationally recognized statistical rating organization (NRSRO). A securities rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the applicable rating agency.
